

Co-op To Elect 5 Members To Board of Directors

On February 4 at its annual meeting members of Greenbelt Consumer Services will elect five new Board members to take the place of those whose terms expire. Those elected will serve a term of one year. The members to be replaced are W. R. Volckhausen, Howard Custer, Milton Thurber, Donald Wagstaff, and Fred L. Wilde; remaining on the Board are Lindsey Thomas, Dr. George Treiman, Denzil Wood and Mrs. Carnie A. Harper. We quote statement issued by the Board:

"We would like to point out to potential nominees and potential nominators that selecting members of the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Consumer Services is a very serious matter, because,

1. The people of Greenbelt have already invested over $6500 in the local enterprises.
2. The local stores are already doing an annual business well in excess of a third of a million dollars.
3. The security of some fifty employees of Greenbelt Consumer Services will depend upon the responsibility and efficiency of the Board.
4. To many people outside Greenbelt, the success of this town will in no small part be measured by the success of its people in running their own stores.

"Willingness and ability to assume the responsibility of the task, and to devote the time and thought necessary to its proper performance, one perhaps the fundamental requisites of Board Candidates."

Another important matter to be taken up at the annual meeting will be the question of patronage refund. In other words, the membership will decide on how and what should be done with the $10,000 net savings on last year's business. Since 559 patrons turned in their slips, the problem in arithmetic promises to be an interesting one.

Four Greenbelt Residents Offer College Credit Courses

Four professors at the University of Maryland, all residents of Greenbelt, will offer night school courses carrying credit to a degree. Dr. Hugh A. Bone will offer a course in Political Propaganda dealing with contemporary groups employing propaganda in the United States and Europe. Mr. Edward Walther will teach a course in American Civil Liberties emphasizing the rights guaranteed under the Bill of Rights. Dr. Linden Dodson is to offer Urban Sociology designed to familiarize the student with problems of the modern city. Dr. Logan Wilson will give a course on the Family and its role in Society.

Each of the above classes meets one night per week and carries three hours of credit. Classes begin the week of February 10 and meet at College Park. These courses are open to Greenbelt residents and transportation to and from College Park may be provided to those desiring it. Persons interested in learning more about these courses or wishing to enroll should see the professor offering the course.

Jane Kincheloe To Review Book

Mrs. Robert Kincheloe will review "White Water and Black Magic" by Richard Gill at the first meeting in the new series of book reviews sponsored by the Book Club.

The meetings will be held January 28 at 8 P.M. in room 200 of the Elementary School Building.

Any resident of Greenbelt desiring to do so may attend.

Players Seek More Talent

The Greenbelt Players are seeking additional talent in order to complete the cast for a 3-act comedy, Boy Meets Girl. Anyone interested in taking a part or in joining the activities of the group are invited to attend a special meeting to be held Wednesday, January 29 in the school work shop behind the auditorium at 8 P.M.

Braden Attends Meeting

Roy S. Braden, as president of the International City Managers Association, left for Chicago the evening of January 16 to attend a conference of the Executive Board of the Association, on January 17 and 18. The Board discussed the program for the coming year and decided on the conference city for next year.

BIRTHDAY BALL SET FOR FEB. 1

February 1 is the date for the local President's Birthday Ball, the Greenbelt Birthday Ball Committee announced after their meeting of last Friday. Tiny (280½ pounds) Meeker's nine-piece orchestra has been engaged for the evening, and will play from 10 until 1 o'clock.

Prices for tickets to the dance will be 55 cents in advance sales and 65 cents at the door. All funds received above expenses will be used for fighting infantile paralysis as in previous years, 50 percent of the total going to the national committee and 50 percent being retained for use in Prince Georges County under the direction of the county committee. Although a proposal had been made that the county funds be used for other diseases besides infantile paralysis, the county committee in a meeting at Upper Marlboro Thursday night voted to use all funds collected for only the one disease. A second committee of the Prince Georges committee, met Tuesday night at Hyattsville. Mayor George Warner represented Greenbelt at both meetings. Three additional representatives attended the Hyattsville sessions.

The Mile O' Dimes feature of the annual infantile paralysis campaign will also be carried out in Greenbelt. Cloakroom receipts at the dance will go into the Mile O' Dimes. Mrs. Thomas Freeman has been selected to head this part of the fund raising.

Besides featuring Austin Gettings at the piano the orchestra will offer specialty numbers during the dance, a week from Saturday night said Larry Pinckney, who is in charge of dance arrangements.

Chairman Warner expressed himself as most gratified at the spirit of cooperation evidenced throughout every stage of the arrangements to date. "There was a spirit about the Thursday night meeting that should insure the success of this year's campaign," he told the Cooperator. He pointed out that nearly every organization in Greenbelt sent a representative to the meeting, and that all of these individuals were able to reach unanimous agreement on most of the points which came up, without bickering or serious argument.

DRUG STORE GETS HOME BAKE SHOP

The brand new department in the drug store selling baked goods is a hit. The home baked pies, cakes, buns and rolls are baked in the kitchen of GCS by Mrs. William Townsend and at the present time according to reports from the management the equipment is being worked to capacity.

The baked goods are home baked in every sense of the word and as the sign tells, no substitutes are used. In other words, fresh milk and eggs instead of powdered and the dried as is the case of commercially baked goods are used.

The doughnut machines has been moved to the basement of the drug store where it will be installed as soon as the variety items and fixtures are removed.

Another Co-op item has made its appearance, Co-op Cigarettes. This is an experiment which Eastern Cooperative Wholesale is conducting. The blend used is one similar to nationally known brands, in fact the cigarettes are put up by a well known producer. Eastern Cooperative Wholesale is very much interested in the reception this product will get and invites criticism from its membership.

Lay Council of County Endorses Health Budget

The Prince Georges County Public Health Lay Council met January 6 and unanimously endorsed the proposed increase in the budget of the County Health Department.

Dr. John M. Byers, Health Officer, speaking before the group emphasized the inability of the Department to carry out needed health measures with its present inadequate staff. He stated that the county is behind in its immunization program, especially against diphtheria, and stressed the high typhoid and tuberculosis rates. He called attention to the increasing problem of venereal disease control in this county because of the proximity to army camps. The need for more school children examinations and a nutrition program in the schools was pointed out. Control of food retail establishments is also curtailed. The proposed budget of $44,345 would add enough personnel to handle these needs.

Mrs. Beulah Keefauver of Berwyn was named chairman of the committee to arrange a public meeting between officials of the Surplus Marketing Administration and interested persons in the county who would like to start school lunches with surplus commodities.

Don't forget the Birthday Ball—

Weitsman Elected President, Greenbelt Health Association

The new Health Association Board of Directors chosen at last week's annual meeting elected Ed Weitsman president, Howard Custer vice-president, and Donald Cooper secretary of the Association. New members of the seven-man board are Howard Custer and Leah Chinitz. Peggy Zorach was re-elected after filling out a half term created by a resignation. The members chose Marks DiSalvo, Albert Lieberman, and Paul Roller, of Berwyn, to serve on the auditing committee.

The social room was crowded by more than one hundred members and guests. Dr. Fred Mott, medical officer for Farm Security Administration and member of the advisory board of the Association, stressed the growing importance of voluntary health insurance groups, in view of the danger of public health work curtailment caused by the re-armament program. Dr. Lewis Reed of the National Public Health Service, also spoke briefly. The local medical staff was represented by Dr. Samuel Berenberg. Former president Dr. Hugh Bone reviewed the main events of his two year three month term, during which the three present physicians were chosen and the services to members greatly extended. Retiring Secretary Leslie Atkins voiced the opinion that the future of the Health Association rests upon clarification of contractual relations with the Association doctors.

Main item of the business accomplished by the members was the decision that in the future no member leaving the Association shall be entitled to a refund of the membership fee except by special decision of the Board under extraordinary circumstances. Misunderstanding of parliamentary procedure and the fact that many members joined the discussion prolonged the debate for well over an hour before the question was decided by a more than 3 to 1 vote.

Coffee and doughnuts were served during the social period following the session.

Local Minister Aids Work Of National Christian Mission

Representatives of churches in Hyattsville, Mt. Rainier, and other sections of Prince George's County joined with leaders of Churches in Northeast Washington on Wednesday night in an area meeting at the McKendree Methodist Church, North Dakota Avenue and Twenty-fourth Street, N.E., to work out specific details of their cooperation in the general plan of the National Christian Mission. The meeting was addressed by Dr. Jesse M. Bader, National Director of the Mission, Dr. Raphael H. Miller, of the National City Christian Church, general chairman of the Committee on Arrangements for the Washington Mission, and Dr. W. L. Darby, secretary. Five other such area meetings are being held this week for other sections of Washington and vicinity.

The Mission week in Washington will begin Sunday night, February 2, with opening mass meetings in Constitutional and Continental Halls, both being addressed by Dr. E. Stanley Jones and Dr. Paul E. Scherer. Dr. Jones of India is the best known missionary-evangelist in the world today. Dr. Scherer has won many friends as the summer preacher on the Vesper Hour presented each Sunday afternoon through the National Broadcasting Company by the Federal Council of Churches.

Beginning Monday, February 3, and continuing through Friday, area mass meetings at 8 P.M. will be held simultaneously at six churches in Washington: Foundry Methodist, Vermont Avenue Baptist, Chevy Chase Presbyterian, Emory Methodist, Metropolitan Baptist, and McKendree Methodist, the last named for residents of this community as well as nearby Washington. Women's Christian Life Forums will be held that week, Monday through Thursday, at the same churches, from 10:00 to 11:30 A.M. On Friday morning, one united women's meeting will be held at the Calvary Baptist Church, Eighth and H streets, N.W.

Five morning meetings for ministers will be held in Woodward Hall, Calvary Baptist Church, and at the same place afternoon seminars, from two to four o'clock, will be conducted for all who desire to attend.

A special seminar for employed persons will be held each afternoon from 4:45 to 6:00 at the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church. Discussion on the subject, "Christians and the International Situation," will be conducted by Dr. Adolf Keller, of Switzerland. Noon-day meetings from 12:00 to 12:30 will be held at the Epiphany Episcopal Church.

Two simultaneous youth meetings will be held on Friday night, February 7, at the National City Christian Church and the Luther Place Lutheran Church. The young people will meet again on Saturday night, in a combined rally at the National City Christian Church.

The closing mass meetings on Sunday, February 9, will be at four in the afternoon, at the Washington Cathedral, and the Calvary Baptist Church.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Prince George's County Ministerial Union, held Thursday of last week at the home of the Reverend Robert L. Kincheloe in Greenbelt, arrangements were completed to hold a supper conference with a member of the staff of Dr. Guy H. Black,

VOLUME 5, NO. 24 JANUARY 23, 1941

In Half

As you may have noticed by this time, the Cooperator has been reduced from eight pages to four. This was necessitated by the fact that our advertising revenues have suffered a decrease and also because it is gradually becoming more difficult to find volunteers to get out a satisfactory eight-page paper. So, our board of editors finally decided that streamlining was the order of the day.

The obvious result of the foregoing is that numerous changes have been necessary. Less space can now be allotted to the various departments of the paper, material must be condensed, and many items must be eliminated. Not having a paid circulation to serve as a barometer of public opinion, the only way we can find out if we're cutting off the wrong part of the cow is by your telling us. But—keep it constructive.

Our Stores

Since nearly half of Greenbelt's families are owners of Greenbelt Consumer Services, what happens to our stores is the business of the whole town. The coming elections for board of directors, scheduled for February 5, brings this fact home to all of us.

If the residents feel that the stores have been well managed this last year, then there should be re-nomination of directors whose terms are expiring. If there are complaints now is the time for nomination of candidates who will fashion Greenbelt Consumer Services into something more nearly resembling the heart's desire. Those who buy at the stores but who are not yet members of the co-op will do well to join this week and then take advantage of their membership to help run the business to their own satisfaction.

We have a complaint or two ourselves. Among other things we feel that the work of the membership and the educational committees have been weak. We expect to make nominations this week which we hope will result in a stronger board of directors.

If you will be as critical, and will take the effort to send in your nomination choices, and will be present for the voting February 5, we will all have better stores and a better working democracy in Greenbelt.

Working Wives Postscript

Quite frankly we expected repercussions from our editorial of January 9 wherein we criticized Greenbelt's working wives. We heard a murmur of protest, it is true, but not a single one of more than 200 working wives and mothers made formal protest.

Several reproached your editor orally in general terms for such a slap in the face, but when invited to print their views there was a sudden lack of interest on the part of the protestant. One friend of the editor who fell within the category of working wives to which the editorial applied put her position this way:

"Heavens, no! I wouldn't want to protest with a letter in the paper. The administration would know then that I was one of those working wives to which their is objection." When assured that Mr. Braden's office probably already knew that she was working, she said, "Well, but then everybody in town would know I am working. I don't want people to think I am neglecting my children." No answer or explanation to justify working—but an admission that she was doing something not quite right and a vague fear that somebody might know about it.

The only attempt to rationalize the double income for a Greenbelt family came from another mother who once worked on the staff of the Cooperator. She explained "Well you ought not to oppose us for working so much, after all when I am working then we can afford a maid and that creates another job."

This was a lame comeback. What this woman failed to realize was that far from creating another job she was taking a job away from someone who might be in worse circumstances, someone not benefitting from Greenbelt's low rents. Her "maid" would be hired by someone else and she could be home with her children.

It appears that we struck home with that editorial.

Community Health

S. R. BERENBERG, M.D., DIRECTOR
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH

"The intestines," said Dr. Von Bermann, "are the mirror of the soul." The good doctor was not being facetious. His statement is intended to shock by over-emphasis in order to command serious attention. The truth behind this statement is not a modern discovery. The ancients recognized a relationship between physical processes and states of mind. All are familiar with the telling Biblical phrase, "bowels of compassion." Sympathy, charity, kindness could not be expected from one whose bodily processes were not in working order. Even today, there is a four letter word in constant use, despite its lack of elegance, which indicates whether man has courage or not. What was instinctive recognition hundreds of years ago has become fact through the work of the modern laboratory.

It is simple to recognize the effects of profound emotional disturbances upon the body. Fright, extreme grief, excitement affect appetite, digestion and evacuation in a marked fashion. Anger, disappointment, any strong emotion excite some degree of reaction from every individual. By experiment it has proven, for instance, that anger can cause a flow of bile back from the intestines to the stomach.

X-rays of people with thin-walled abdomens have revealed the absolute cessation of the natural activity of the intestines for as long as ten minutes after the patient has been aroused by anger or fear.

In life emotional crises are rare events. But the wear and tear of lesser but continuous emotions extorts a price. Most responsible adults of our times are troubled constantly with anxiety and feelings of insecurity which they repress as well as they can. Consequently it is difficult for them to realize that the fear of this country being involved in the present war or the doubt of its permanence of their employment, have any connection with their bowel habits. Just as already there is a noticeable rise in the number of people whose mental poise has been upset by the increasing tragedies of the world, so there must be millions whose health has been damaged, but not so seriously, by the same events. The dull statistics of the drug manufacturer will probably reveal a distressing picture of the ever-growing effects of the terrible tensions of our times. An increase in the sale of headache remedies, aids to digestion and laxatives, can be as accurate perhaps in counting up the total costs of war which humanity must pay.

The new variety store is doing very well, according to Manager Rogers. Although this week is the "poorest" of the year in business parlance because it is the week following the holidays, rent, and so on, the combined business of the drug and variety stores showed an increase of 25% gross.

RULES FOR LITERARY GOLF CONTEST

Literary Golf is a very interesting game—the playing rules are similar to those of regular golf, the object in both cases being to play each hole with the fewest possible strokes. The exercise is mental instead of physical.

At each hole a number of letters are shown scattered over the fairway between tee and flag. These letters are hazards, and the player must overcome them by assembling them into words. Now, since each word so formed constitutes a stroke, he will naturally save strokes by using long words. Words of two letters or more that are shown in Funk and Wagnall's Dictionary may be used. Proper nouns may be used if so shown. Only the letters shown on fairway may be used in the words assembled for that hole, and no individual letter can be used more times in the list of words than it is shown in group on fairway.

When a player is unable to use all the letters on his list of words, the letters so remaining are each counted as a stroke. Thus—when a player assembles a list of three words and has one letter not placed, his score for the hole is "4"—if he has two letters remaining, the score is "5".

Each hole is marked with its "Par". This means that reasonable good playing will enable one to equal that score. The wise player however, will try for a "Birdie" or "Eagle" at each hole. A "Birdie" is one stroke less than par—an "Eagle" two less. However, Birdies or Eagles will probably not be possible at every hole.

Choose your words carefully and remember that while long words are desirable in this game, just as long driving is in golf, long driving alone will not win many golf games.

The really good golf player always gives some consideration to the shot following the one he is playing, and this holds good in "Literary Golf".

Reminder

Members of the Greenbelt Consumer Services are reminded that the annual meeting of the Co-op has been set for Wednesday, February 5, in the Auditorium of the Community Building.

The Board is anxious to receive suggestions concerning the method of distribution of the patronage return on 1940 sales. The net saving for 1940 is expected to be in excess of $10,000, but certain reserves must be deducted from this amount before the return to purchasers is made.

The Educational committee is planning to hold Neighborhood Nights prior to the annual meeting for the special purpose of discussing the patronage return. The officers of the Co-op are most desirous that the members be acquainted with the theory behind a patronage return, as well as the paramount arguments in favor of a return in cash, or in stock, or a combination of the two.

The membership is urged to reserve February 5 for this meeting.

A Farm Security resettlement project in Ashwood, South Carolina, has written Les Atkins for information about the Greenbelt Band, apparently with the intention of starting one of their own.

The annual membership meeting of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union will be held this evening at 8 P.M. in the school auditorium.

All Credit Union members having at least one paid up share are entitled to attend the meeting.

MRS. GREENBELT

Good Evening, Mrs. Greenbelt

Sunday, January 19, was Lee's birthday. Because he was a figure so loved by all who knew him and because his memory lives as a shining thing in the hearts of many people, I like to give you this -

THE SWORD OF ROBERT LEE

By Father Ryan

Forth from its scabbard, pure and bright,
Flashed the sword of Lee!
Far in the front of the deadly fight,
High o'er the brave, in the cause of right,
Its stainless sheen, like a beacon light,
Led us to victory.

Out of its scabbard, where full long
It slumbered peacefully—
Roused from its rest by the battle song,
Shielding the feeble, smiting the strong,
Guarding the right, and avenging the wrong—
Gleamed the sword of Lee!

Forth from its scabbard, high in air
Beneath Virginia's sky—
And they who saw it gleaming there
And knew who bore it, knelt to swear
That where that sword led they would dare
To follow and to die.

Out of its scabbard! Never hand
Waved sword from stain as free,
Nor purer sword led braver band,
Nor braver bled for a brighter land,
Nor brighter land had a cause as grand,
Nor cause a chief like Lee!

Forth from its scabbard! All in vain!
Forth flashed the sword of Lee!
'Tis shrouded now in its sheath again,
It sleeps the sleep of our noble slain,
Defeated, yet without a stain,
Proudly and peacefully.

RECIPES

By Peggy Bargas

Just in case you haven't gotten around to that orange shortcake and omelette dinner we were talking about last week, here is a recipe for an omelette that is a perfect companion to the shortcake. This omelette recipe is different - the finished product is delicious, with an unusual texture.

If you have tried the shortcake, let us know how you liked it.

Supper Omelet

1½ cups milk	1 cup grated cheese
¼ cup Co-op Farina	A little scraped onion
½ teaspoon salt	Few grains pepper
4 egg yolks	4 egg whites

Scald milk in top of double boiler. Add farina slowly, stirring constantly until thick; add salt. Cook 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Add egg yolks one at a time, beating well after each addition. Remove from hot water; add cheese and seasonings. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold in farina mixture. Pour into buttered ring mould; place mould in a pan of hot (not boiling) water. Bake in slow oven until omelet is firm and top delicately browned. Temperature should be about 325 degrees and the time will be about 35 minutes.

To Serve: Unmould; surround with cooked vegetables, asparagus, broccoli, baked whole tomatoes. The omelet may be served with a tomato, mushroom, or vegetable sauce if preferred.

Variation: Substitute 1/4 cup Co-op yellow corn meal for farina. Add 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento to the cooked corn meal mixture.

BETTER BUYER BRIEFS

B Block Better Buyer Helen O'Melia was honored at a recent meeting with a farewell handkerchief shower. Mrs. O'Melia leaves January 25, with her husband and son, for Salt Lake City where Mr. O'Melia has an appointment as special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mrs. O'Melia has served the group as secretary-treasurer since September.

A-block housewives will meet Friday, January 24, at 8 P.M. to organize another Better Buyers unit. Six women in this neighborhood have already indicated a desire to form a new group, and all interested are invited. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. P. Fern, 3-E Ridge Road.

Better Buyers Group led by Mrs. Rhea Lewis gave a birthday party for Mrs. Ruth Taylor, Friday night January 10 at the home of Mrs. Linda Maffay.

Regular procedure, with birthday gift, and refreshments was followed. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ruth Taylor--19-B Ridge Road.

GREENBELT'S NEW BABIES

Mr. and Mrs. George McLaughlin announce the birth of a boy, January 18, at 1:26 P.M. at Greenbelt Hospital.

GILBERT BOOK REVIEWED AT MOTHERS' CLUB

"Forty Years a Country Preacher" by George B. Gilbert was reviewed by Rev. Robert Kincheloe at the regular meeting of the Mothers' Club, Wednesday, January 15, at the home of Mrs. Claude Wood, 5B Ridge Road.

Anyone interested in Parents Magazine is urged to get in touch with Mrs. Fred De Jaeger, 58 D Crescent Road. A group of ten is required in order to get yearly subscriptions for $1.00 each.

OUR NEIGHBORS

Directors and staff members of the Greenbelt Health Association with their wives and husbands, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Cooper Friday night at a party in honor of retiring board members Hugh Bone and Leslie Atkins.

Helen Boren, assistant superintendent of Greenbelt Hospital entertained the regular nursing staff Monday evening January 20, with a dinner at her apartment, 13-A Parkway.

Dorothea Ford Henes was guest of honor at a bridal shower given last week by Mrs. William Stewart and Mrs. Samuel Berenberg at the latter's home. The 28 guests included the Hospital staff nurses, wives of Health Association Board members, and some of Mrs. Henes' Associates who worked with her on the Cooperator staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Tessim Zorach missed out on a local pot of gold program one sad day last week, thereby waving goodbye to $28. Friends who heard the Zorachs' number called, realizing that neither husband or wife was at home, telephoned Mr. Zorach at his place of work, but by the time they had explained the situation and argued him into calling the radio station, the prescribed time limit had elapsed by one second.

PRIDE IN OWNERSHIP

Why is our little cherub the most important little cherub in the whole wide world? Why is no other sofa so comfortable as our own? Why is our home, and ours only, the one spot on earth we seek when day is done? Why is our flag a symbol, another's just a banner.

It is the sense of possession, of ownership, that brings the pride that makes us want our child and our home, our town and our country, to be the best the world has seen.

And it is that same sense of ownership that makes our cooperative store different from any other. It is our store - it belongs to no one else. When we buy in our store, we are strengthening our own possession. When we show our store to a visitor we glow with pride at its virtues, blush with shame at its faults.

Our store grows with our purchases, is operated as we vote that it shall be, is administered by Directors we elect. It has no purpose but to serve us.

That is why many a co-op store has a placard with the statement: "You and I have paid for many a store, but this one we really own".

Spare-ribs and sour kraut

surely make one's mouth water for a glass of NATIONAL BOHEMIAN Beer. When you are deep in the enjoyment of this grand food combination, you demand a beer which has body and flavor and which stands right up alongside and talks the same language.

Brewed in our brewery as you prepare food in your own kitchen—NATIONAL BOHEMIAN BEER is brewed UP to a high standard—never down to meet a price.

Your dealer knows that this is a beer of real importance—and he is willing to pay more for it than for any other popular priced bottle of beer. It makes him a profit—never a profiteer. Other beers may make him more money—NATIONAL BOHEMIAN makes him friends.

Compliment your dealer or tavern keeper by ordering NATIONAL BOHEMIAN.
